DISTRICT OF MASSACHUSETTS

v.

Thomas A. Shay,
Alfred W. Trenkler

Criminal No.: 92-10369-Z

Defendant's Motion To Continue Trial Date from October 25, 1993, To November 9, 1993.

Now comes the defendant, by his counsel, and requests that the above case be continued for two weeks from October 25, 1993, until November 9, 1993.

In support of this motion defendant states:

1. On October 4, 1993, defendant's counsel will begin the trial of Commonwealth v. Haskard (see enclosed), a first degree murder case in which a husband and wife are charge with killing their one month old daughter. The indictment in said case was returned in September, 1992, and the trial is expected to take 2-3 weeks. Defendant's counsel has been informed it is unlikely Justice Sarris will preside at the Haskard trial, and will not know until mid-September who the trial Justice will be.

The trial of this case, also involving a possible life sentence, is expected to take 3-5 weeks, and defendant's counsel would appreciate the chance to have 7-14 days between the conclusion of the Haskard case, and the beginning of this case to adqutely make last minute preparations for this case.

Wherefore, defendant, by his counsel, respectfully requests this case be continued from October 25, 1993, to November 9, 1993.

Respectfully Submitted,
Alfred Trenkler
